

Department of Industrial & Systems Engineering

Research and Teaching Assistantship Policy

Implemented Fall 2009

Research or teaching assistantships require that you be a full time student in good standing in this department's graduate program. Continuation of the assistantship and fellowship beyond depends both upon the availability of funds and your performance as a graduate student, both academically and for your assistantship duties. If you are convicted of academic dishonesty by the University Honesty Committee, your assistantship from the department will be immediately and permanently revoked.
