Alabama Power Academic Excellence Program (AEP)
Student Ambassadors
2016 Application Information

The Alabama Power Academic Excellence Program’s Student Ambassador Program is for students that are dedicated to serving and representing the Alabama Power Academic Excellence Program and the College of Engineering, its programs, and its mission. Student Ambassadors who are selected will help host official AEP/COE functions, VIP events, and act as student liaisons to various communities/units the office and college serves.

Qualifications for Membership

AEP Student Ambassadors should:

• Be in good academic standing (not on Academic Warning/Suspension or have been on Academic Warning/Suspension in the previous school year) at Auburn University.
• Exhibit academic excellence, strong communication skills (both verbal and written), leadership skills, and strong interpersonal skills.
• Be willing to serve and represent the AEP Office and the College of Engineering and interface with the many communities which the University serves.
• Be an undergraduate or graduate student in Engineering and must have been enrolled at Auburn University Main Campus for two semesters (excluding summer term), including the semester of selection.
• Be enrolled and be able to represent the AEP Office in a credible manner throughout the entire school year.
• Be able to attend scheduled mandatory training and agree to the time commitment to fulfill Ambassador duties during the week and on Sundays.

Responsibilities of AEP Student Ambassadors

AEP Student Ambassadors must:

• Attend all scheduled meetings.
• Assist at designated AEP-sponsored events and receptions and with Sunday Tutorial.
• Assist other student organizations, as appropriate.
• Be responsible to their advisor and the AEP Office.

Benefits of AEP Student Ambassadors:

• Serve as a "spokesperson" for the AEP office
• Improvement and enhancement of interpersonal skills
• Development of leadership, group dynamics, communication, and public speaking skills
• The ability to meet, interact and network with other students, faculty, administrators, alumni, and community members.
